A Glorious Victory at Corinth.

The news of the victory at Corinth is received with joy by all loyal hearts. Our western boys, under Rosecrans, have again fought a desperate battle with the rebels, under Price and Van Dorn, at Corinth, and defeated them. The battle was fought on Friday and Saturday, when the enemy gave way and retreated in disorder. They were pursued by Gen. Rosecrans nine miles to Chevala, and a column of federal troops under Harbitt had moved to intercept them on the southwest. Gen. Ord met the retreating army of Price, after the battle, and drove them across the river southward. It is believed that they are hemmed in and must surrender. Our troops fought with great bravery, and the loss is heavy on both sides. Gen. Hackleman, of Indiana, was killed, and Col. Oglesby, of Illinois, is dangerously wounded.

Let Us Learn by Experience.

We hardly think that republicans any where in the state will very cordially unite this year with the democratic party in electing a ticket under the delusion of a pretended Union. The experience they have had in the action of the last assembly pretty conclusively demonstrates that republican districts were generally sold last fall, when they patriotically threw aside their party feelings and elected democrats to the legislature. These bogus democratic Union men have, in nearly every instance, been the worst party hacks in the legislature, and followed H. L. Palmer around as obedient as dogs at the head of a master. They have voted against the soldiers' suffrage bill, bills to raise funds for the families of soldiers, and generally against all measures which had for their object rendering aid to the general government in the prosecution of the war. The Union movement last fall, gave us a legislature which the people will never desire to see duplicated, and, therefore, we feel confident they will not encourage the repetition of that great political blunder.

Nothing would give republicans greater pleasure than to unite with genuine war democrats, but when it becomes necessary, in order to do so, to fellowship with secession sympathizers, they will refuse the proposed union. To fraternize with about one-eighth part of the democratic party they are called upon to unite upon equal terms with heartless pretenses to patriotism, and would reject to see the armies of the Union defeated and Jeff. Davis triumphant. It is sacrificing too much in feeling and principle to make such an arrangement acceptable to republicans.

A Trap Set.

During the discussion in the democratic county convention, Saturday, on the motion to adjourn to the 14th inst., one of the leading delegates said: "A respectable number of dissatisfied republicans ask us to adjourn over to the 14th. It can do no harm to adjourn over until that time, for we shall not then be under any obligations to accept any proposition they may make. We may so far get into a trap that they cannot honorably back out. We want it distinctly understood that on senator and assemblymen we make no compromise. We want straight men for those offices." Another leading delegate, who now holds an office in a strong republican locality by the aid of republican votes, said he hated republicans like rattlesnakes, but he would affiliate with them for the purpose of breaking up their organization.

Under the influence of such appeals the convention did adjourn until the 14th, without making any nominations. How many republicans will be caught in the trap?

Hon. J. Prescott Hall, formerly a prominent whig-politician in New York, died at Newport, Rhode Island, a day or two since.

The Difference Well Stated.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin, is giving the reasons why it supports Judge Potter for congress, so well states the issues between the democratic and republican parties, and its argument is so applicable to the candidates in this district, Mr. Sloan and Col. Guppy, that we copy it, not only as a matter of justice to Judge Potter, but as appropriate to this district:

"Between a candidate thus engendered, running under such auspices, and bound to such political friends, and such a straightforward, bold and steadfast supporter of the war as the Hon. John E. Potter, we cannot for a moment hesitate. We know that Mr. Potter, under all circumstances, will be true to the principles on which alone this war can be honorably ended. He has for six years been tried by an ordeal of public life through which few men pass unscathed. Foremost always among the enemies of the only dangerous enemy this country ever had, he is today as hearty a hater of slavery and its rebellious fruits, as he was at the commencement of his honorable career in congress. In all his multifarious contests which were the signal of his life, he has been true to his principles, and his convictions, and was always fearless in their maintenance. His victory for the cause of free speech won over the bully Prior, was but one of the many acts showing his possession of just those many qualities in which so many northern representatives have failed. He has been as faithful and industrious a member as ever went from the state.

In his personal habits he is above reproach; and at a time like this, when so many of our civil and military officers betray the trust reposed in them, through their indulgence in vices which unman them, this is no slight requisite. Mr. Potter will, we know, heartily sustain the President's proclamation, for he has from the first advocated its righteousness and policy. In all of the collateral questions which will come up, he will be found with those who earnestly seek to carry the policy of the President into effect.

Mr. Brown, on the other hand, is the candidate of a set of men whose genuine tendencies were shown in Mr. Ryan's treasonable manifesto. Perhaps the child will do worse the father, but the connection between them is too close to be concealed. He is too shrewd a man to avow publicly the approbation which he expresses privately of this address, but the people will see that the man who sustains the address also sustains him.

They will also see that men who never uttered a thoroughly loyal sentiment, support him; that every occasioned, will support him; and that if he is elected a show of triumph will go up from Richmond, in recognition of the election of an enemy to President Lincoln and his measures. It doesn't make any difference what specious promises Mr. Brown may make, he cannot resist the force of his antecedents, or the influences which prevail among those who nominated him. In public life these influences form the man. Mr. Brown has not such extraordinary force of character as to become an exception.

As to the extent, oppose the President's policy, particularly that which relates to emancipation. Mr. Potter will sustain this policy. We believe that the only salvation of the country lies in the support of the President. We therefore support Mr. Potter.

The circumstances which attended and the influences which produced the nomination of Mr. Brown and Col. Guppy were precisely alike. Both nominating conventions avoided any explicit expression of opinion, and put their candidates on platforms capable of any kind of construction. Both conventions were controlled by men who have either openly avowed their approval of the Ryan address, like Mr. Iyer, editor of the Madison Patriot, and Mr. Palmer, editor of the Monitor, or those who really approve it but deem it discreet to withhold for the present the public expression of their approval. Their candidates are to play shy until after the election, then the mask is to be thrown off, and if they should be elected the Valhalla policy is to be supported in congress. This is the program, and any man who votes for any democratic congressional candidate, except Col. Briggs, with any expectation of anything else, has little discernment and has learned nothing from the past.

A PARTY NOMINEE.—The Watertown Democrat objects to Mr. Sloan on the ground that he "will be a mere partisan in congress." Was Col. Guppy, the democratic candidate, nominated for any other reason than that he is "a mere partisan," and will act with the democratic party in all its measures? Admitting, simply for the sake of the argument, that Mr. Sloan will be a mere partisan, his partisanship will be always on the right side. Col. Guppy will be frequently, if not generally, on the wrong side. If Col. Guppy would support the same measures as Mr. Sloan, then nothing would be gained by electing the colonel; if he would oppose measures Mr. Sloan would support, then no such change as he would introduce is desirable or would be beneficial. Republicans, at least, will not be anxious to make the experiment of electing Col. Guppy.

DAN BOSS CAPTURED BY THE REBELS.

We find the following in the Cincinnati Times, in a letter dated Louisville, October 1st: "Dan Boss, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, who was here on government business with a lot of cars, was yesterday taken prisoner by a party of guerrillas only ten miles from the city. The rebels took everything they laid hands on, counting of rare old whisky, brandy, stout, empty bottles, and one not quite so empty, that Dan had hid under the seat. Dan was rejoicing in the thought that he had deceived the rebels, and was about to drive off on parole, when the contemptible thieves said they guessed he had better get out and let them try the speed of his horse. Dan begged for the horse—said it wasn't his, but the rebels replied: "Well, as it is your horse, why, we'll take care of it, and off they drove, and Dan had to look home. The rebels were stable men that took the horse to regular sympathy with secession; so we can't be expected to sympathize with him."

AN IOWA EXPEDITION AGAINST THE INDIANS.

The Davenport Democrat of Friday says: "Adjutant General Baker is at Dubuque organizing an expedition to the frontier. We understand that the 27th, at Dubuque, has been detailed for that service. Assistant Adjutant General Hall shipped arms and ammunition for the regiment yesterday morning. He sent 1500 rounds of 40 calibre, 1000 rounds of 50 calibre, and other necessary accoutrements. The expedition moved west to Cedar Falls, by rail, thence through the country to Fort Dodge, thence to Jackson county, Minnesota, which is their present destination. The expedition starts out forthwith."

Correspondence of the Milwaukee Daily Gazette, From the Third Regiment.

Headquarters 3d Reg. Wis. Vols., Maclellan Heights, Sept. 25, 1862.

Messrs. Editors.—Having a few leisure moments to-day, I will give you a short account of the part taken by our regiment in the battle of Antietam, and the gallant conduct of the third Wisconsin regiment and its brave colonel, Thomas H. Ruger.

At eleven o'clock p. m. on the 16th, the regiment was ordered to march. It was soon in line and marching array. The night being rather dark, we were in doubt about our direction. After marching about four miles we halted in a field, and were told to get all the rest we could. In a few minutes the men were in the land of dreams, many slumbering their last sleep on earth.

At the break of day every man was brought to his feet by the distant sound of musketry. The conflict had commenced. We marched forward at a quick pace, and as we advanced we met wounded soldiers, seemingly by companies; some were carried, and some were hobbling along as best they could. At that early hour they had experienced the cruelties of war, and as they limped past us we saw the blood dripping from their wounds.

After marching through a little piece of woods we filed into a field in line of battle, when our Colonel gave orders to forward march and we advanced in line of battle about fifty rods and halted upon a rise of ground, in front of the enemy. Seeing our approach they turned their whole fire upon us. At this time such was the nature of the ground and the disposition of our troops that we could not fire upon the enemy without danger to our own men. For five minutes, and perhaps more, we stood still watching out firing a gun, while the enemy was pouring into our ranks a destructive fire of grape and canister, and the men fell like grass before the scythe. Nothing but heroic courage and the best discipline could have stood such a murderous fire. But not one flinched, and none fired until ordered to do so. Soon, however, the way was clear, and just as a number of rebel flags appeared in sight, the welcome order to fire came, and the first volley from the 3d brought down two of the rebel banners. The rebels, however, poured a destructive fire into our ranks and our brave men fell by scores. In this storm of lead the old third stood firm and undaunted, and gave the rebels volley for volley, until they fled before us. When our Colonel gave the order to cease firing, we numbered less than fifty men in the ranks.

Through all this terrible fighting not once did our colors fall. When our Color Sergeant was wounded, he turned around to hand them to a corporal; but three of them had gone to a hero's home, and the others were wounded. A private caught the honored flag and waved it proudly through the fight over the shattered remains of the gallant third.

Col. Ruger received a wound in the head, but kept the field, determined to stand by the little band who had so bravely rallied around him. When our regiment went into the battle, it numbered 359 men, and of these 231 were killed or wounded. W.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. It is believed that the nearest point to Washington on the Southern Potomac, at which there are any rebels, is the Lappanham station, on the Orange and Alexandria railroad, fifty-one miles from Alexandria. Col. H. T. Sanders of the 12th Wisconsin volunteers having marched with a detachment of his command in April, from Racine to Prairie du Chien without having his commissary duties provided for and secured, and having contracted for the subsistence of his men at an extravagant price without due regard to the interests of the government, has, by direction of the president, been dismissed from the service.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.

Special to Chicago Journal.—The Portersburg Monitor correspondent of the Pittsburg Press says that an advance movement is going on there which may take a prominent place in history. It has Richmond for its destination, it is supposed. Major General Dix has succeeded in ousting nearly all of the worthless, pro-slavery officers who infested this point, so that in the movement now about to take place the rebels will be minus their mail bags. All the military posts in the vicinity of Portersburg have been greatly strengthened of late.

The enemy is evidently contracting his lines about Winchester, awaiting the battle which will soon be forced upon him by Gen. McClellan, who has cautiously moved a large army across the Potomac. Gen. Lee's conscripts are deserting in large numbers. The Maryland bills are full of them. New York, October 4. A private letter from an officer of Garibaldi's army lenders the services of four to five thousand veteran soldiers, all ready equipped, and two hundred officers, to fight for the Union, and asks the State of New York to engage them.

New York, October 4.

The English iron-clad steamer Sarabean, 205 tons, from Liverpool, is a prize to the federal cruisers. She was captured while attempting to enter Wilmington, N. C. Her cargo consists of brandy and gunpowder, and is valued at $250,000. Special to Chicago Tribune.—A person from Holly Springs yesterday reports the rebels there in some force. Two large drug firms of this city have been convicted of furnishing medicines to the confederates and sentenced to Alton. Their names are R. D. W. Ward and W. C. McClelland, Samuel Mansfield and Dr. Jennings, and a Mr. Plummer. The guerrillas and three horses were captured at Randolph on Tuesday, and one was shot. Five were taken on Pigeon Roost road a few miles from here, by the 6th Illinois cavalry, day before yesterday. Southern papers say that Nashville must surrender, as it is completely invested by rebel troops.

CAIRO, Oct. 5.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—We can get no distinct account of the Corinth battle on Friday and Saturday morning. Price attacked Rosecrans' right, and Van Dorn and Lovell his left. The assault was made with great determination. At one time our centre was penetrated and the rebels reached the Corinth House. They were driven out at the point of the bayonet. Van Dorn led the column over a bluff on the left, and with fifty yards of the ditch, exposed all the time to a withering fire of grape and canister. He was driven back by a charge of the 27th Ohio and 11th Missouri. The battle lasted till 11:30 a. m., when the rebels began to retreat towards Hatchie. The number of killed and wounded on either side is not known. The rebel loss is reported much larger than our own. We have between 700 and 1000 prisoners, not including the wounded.

Gen. Hackleman is killed, and General Oglesby dangerously wounded. Colonel Smith, Gilbert and Moore are wounded. The Mobile and Ohio railroad is not seriously injured. The telegraph is repaired to Corinth.

Gen. Harbitt marched on Saturday to the south side of the Hatchie river with a large force, thus cutting off Price's retreat. Rosecrans moved early this morning to renew the attack, and cannonading has been heard all day in the direction of these forces. Price is in the forks of the Hatchie river, and between Hurlbut and Rosecrans.

Special to Chicago Times.—Gen. Tuttle received a dispatch this morning, giving good news from Corinth. Price made the attack on Friday, with forty thousand men. The fight lasted up to last evening. The enemy was repulsed with great slaughter. Our troops are said to have acted nobly. Gen. Dodge sends a dispatch to this place to prepare for a large number of wounded. There is no doubt that the battle has been a very severe one.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 5. The Louisville special dispatch of the 2d inst., concerning the taking of 300 rebels by Rosecrans' division was incorrect. It doubtless was based on the fact that an entire Georgia regiment of cavalry 300 strong was captured in the early part of last week by Lieut. Col. Steward, of the 2d Indiana cavalry, commanding his own and the 2d and 3d Kentucky, which surrounded and surprised the rebels at breakfast, who surrendered without a fight. Lieut. Col. Crawford, commanding the captured regiment, is the ex-congressman, and one of the confederate peace commissioners to Washington. These prisoners reached here last evening. The rebels in large force evacuated Barstons yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Brig. Gen. Van Cleave, of Minnesota, leading the advance of Crittenden's corps, entered Bardonia last evening at 6 o'clock, eight hours after the evacuation by the rebels, and was to pursue them to the river.

A rumor prevalent that Gen. Dix's force was attacked by Kirby Smith's force at Hardinsville, and driven back four miles. This rumor is entirely contradicted here. Memphis, Oct. 3, 4 p. m., via Cairo, 5. Special to Chicago Tribune.—Runners of expeditions to Grenada are in all probability unfounded, in fact they would be a good thing to Gen. Sherman, but perhaps the men could not be spared at present.

Late news from Helena reports a movement of Steele's army—waiting for Steele; that he is moving to a certain point, and on Friday last the steamer Pike, taking confederate prisoners to Vicksburg, was fired upon at Friar's Point by guerrillas, and four prisoners wounded. She bore a flag of truce.

St. Louis, October 4.

Special Dispatch to the Chicago Times.—Fifteen rebel sympathizers, living at Cape Girardeau, have been arrested and sent to St. Louis. Several bushwhackers were sent down by Col. Merrill. Col. Shaler, formerly of St. Louis, now of the rebel army in Arkansas, is reported shot by his own troops. Two brigades of the Kansas army occupied Sarcoxie on the 23d, under Gen. Salomon. Coffee, with 3,000 rebels, was in the vicinity. This is probably the force which Salomon skirmished with, and retreated from, as mentioned in yesterday's dispatch. Col. Ritchie, formerly of the 1st Missouri, defeated by the rebels about the same time, and a large number of federal wagons captured.

McClellan's Headquarters, Oct. 5. A company of the 4th Pennsylvania, guarding the Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridge at Pappan, half way between Cambridge and Hancock, was attacked by a rebel force and all taken prisoners. At the same time a cavalry force, under Col. McCreynolds, captured the campment of the rebels, bringing away two pieces of artillery, ten wagons, sixty horses and mules. A strong cavalry force under Gen. Averill have been sent after the retreating rebels. New York, Oct. 5. A Key West letter of the 23rd says Col. Morgan has issued an order freeing all slaves in his department.

The Herald's dispatch from Washington, dated 4th inst., says that Gen. Lockwood is liberating the slaves of disloyalists on the eastern shore of Virginia. CINCINNATI, Oct. 5. Special to Chicago Times.—Gen. McClellan passed through Columbus yesterday. He is very secret about his new command. He does not go east; but, as Gen. Hunter is confidently spoken of in connection with the Department of the Ohio, McClellan may take command of the troops in the field or vice versa.

We are on the eve of important changes, and expect that the situation would indicate that western generals will command western troops. Gen. Geo. W. Morgan arrived here tonight, to see Gen. Wright. Illinois regiments are arriving to-day, and have crossed into Kentucky. The entire federal army is now in motion and an engagement may be looked for at any hour.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

New York, Oct. 6. The special Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, says that Col. Hamilton, of Texas, is urged for a position in the military of Texas, with Gen. Clay as commander of the army; the two to go together with a division of soldiers and 500 armed citizens; the former to take and the latter to hold, occupy and defend the soil of that state. The expedition is intended to co-operate with that of Eli Thayer to Florida. Fifty thousand men have already offered themselves to Mr. Thayer, and a wealthy ship owner of New York yesterday proffered three first class steamers for the enterprise. Three rebel flags taken at the battle of Antietam will be presented by the representatives of the victorious Indiana regiments to the executive of their state. We are assured by those who should know, that the revelations in the court of inquiry, and those yet to appear, will demand that a widely published order of Miles to Col. Ford, instructing the latter to hold on to Maryland Heights till the cows tail dropped off, is a forgery; that Ford left his position against his wish and in obedience to positive orders, and that Miles alone of the officers at the post is responsible for the disaster. The British steamer Despatch, labelled some time ago in a civil suit for $30,000 and placed in custody of the U. S. marines in consequence of yellow fever breaking out among her crew; the officers in charge were obliged to leave, and left her under charge of the revenue cutter, the commandant of which was not to let her escape. Friday night Capt. Benj. Buck of the Despatch went aboard the cutter and told her commandant that he was going to sea, and that they might fire at him and be damned; that he would have to sink him and twenty-four souls besides before he would stop. Saturday morning the Despatch got up steam and proceeded down the bay. The cutter fired three or four shots at her which she did not heed, when the fort was signalled, and two shots were fired at her bow from Fort Lafayette. The Despatch then hove to under the guns of the fort, and yesterday was towed back to the quarantine and anchored under the cutter Crawford.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.

It is confidently asserted that Lee's army is in full retreat. Reports that the sick and wounded, together with cannon and stores, have been sent up the valley, are confirmed by so many sources that there can be little doubt but they are correct. The general opinion is that the rebels will fall back on Gordonsville and the line of the Rapidan river, where they can be in full communication with Richmond.

FREDERICK, Oct. 5.

A President Lincoln made a call upon the wounded Gen. Hartsell, and soon after left for Washington, amidst the cheering of the throng of citizens and soldiers, to whom he returned thanks briefly as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS.—I am surrounded by soldiers, and a little farther off by the citizens of this good city of Frederick; nevertheless, I can only say, as I did five minutes ago, that it is not proper for me to make speeches in my present position. I return thanks to your soldiers for the good service they have rendered, the bravery they have shown, and the hardships they have endured, and the blood they have shed for this Union of ours; and I also return thanks not only to the soldiers, but to the good citizens of Frederick, and to the good men and women and children of this land of ours for their devotion to this glorious cause, and I say this with no malice in my heart towards those who have done otherwise. May our children and children's children, for a thousand generations, continue to enjoy these benefits conferred upon us by a united country, and have cause to rejoice under these glorious institutions, bestowed upon us by Washington and his compeers. Now, my friends, soldiers and citizens, I can only say once more, farewell.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 6. A large fire occurred in this city this morning, entirely destroying the Bastille block, corner Genesee and Warren streets, and fronting Hanover square. The block was built and owned by Stephen Bastille, whose loss is $10,000, insured for $30,000. Aggregate loss on goods, etc., is about $75,000—insured for $40,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.

The following dispatches have been received here:

FIRST DISPATCH.

Gen. Ord's Headquarters, Oct. 5. To Major General Halleck: Jackson, Tenn., Oct. 5. (A. M.)

To Major General Halleck: Gen. Ord, who followed Gen. Harbitt, met the enemy to-day on the south side of the Hatchie and I understood from a dispatch dropped from across the stream and got possession of the heights with our troops. Gen. Ord took two batteries and about 200 prisoners. A large portion of Gen. Rosecrans' force was at Chavalla. At this distance everything looks most favorable, and I cannot see how the enemy are to escape without losing everything but their small arms. I have strained everything to take into the fight an adequate force, and to get them to the right place. Signed, U. S. GRANT, Major General Commanding.
